After a wet winter a cold dry day gave ideal walking conditions with almost no mud at all (unlike the weekend just gone!) A couple of walkers did retire between CPs – but they had their own transport, so there were very few retirements to collect. Georgie Hogg tripped over early on and hurt her wrist, only found she'd broken it when she went into Cromer hospital having decided the night section stiles would be difficult!

There was a minor panic for the organisers on the Wednesday after the event, a phone call from the family of the walkers saying they hadn't been able to contact him since the walk! We don't know the full details, but he didn't even start – contact was made just after they phoned us.
