On Sunday November 21st 119 walkers of all ages from 6 to 70+ set out on the first Coal Tax Kanter and 92 returned having found all the checkpoints on their chosen route. The majority (72) opted for the 12 miles course and on this we were particularly pleased to see so many youngsters - over 30 under 16 years old and the majority of these

Under foot conditions varied from hard tracks to deep mud and most returned tinged with brown - one or two even managed to bathe in the deeper puddles: Louise Cartwright

The first checkpoints on both courses were meant to be relatively easy to find but nevertheless caused problems for some walkers - it often takes some time to get into the habit of close map reading and as with the genuine orienteers the early checkpoints are always the ones where the majority have difficulty. On the long course the secret was to stick close to the houses shown to the west. On the short route a few people found the wrong post - giving the answer to sum of numbers as 4+2 =6 having gone to the post on the corner of Deans Road opposite the pond which has an unusual one line inscription - Cap 42.

Kanters provide useful map reading practice as well as (we trust) an enjoyable day out in the country. There was very little road on the 12 and 15 miles routes but the 18 miles route had rather moreunavoidable if we were to make use of the posts over Ashstead Common and thus use an area not used on any other event. One advantage of a Kanter from the organisers side is that it can be organised by very few people - 2 in this case whilst the Surrey Inns Kanter is a solo effort by Keith - see below. Our thanks go to Tony Youngs for designing the certificate and to Erica Blatchford and Kim and Iona Pamplin for taking charge of the kitchen.

There are over 200 extant Coal Tax Posts forming a rough circle around London. Those to the east of the area covered on this event soon cross built up areas but there are tentative plans to put on a second Coal Tax Kanter in November 1983 using posts to the west over Esher and Oxshott Commons - details will appear in LDWA publications in good time. in good time.

ileW brenves We hope that whether you completed all or part of the route you enjoyed your day out and especially if it was your first event , look forward 39 Heary White to seeing you on our future promotions
