

SURREY INNS KANTER - JANUARY 3RD 1983

This year had the biggest attendance so far by a good margin with 212 people recorded by me as having started. 123 people did the short course, 71 the long and 18 did not complete or retired. I think, despite the weather, most people enjoyed it. All I can say is that the weather was much better than when I did my two trial walk-outs, when there was not just mud but water up to my knees in places, so you were all lucky!

I am afraid I was so busy slaving over a hot stove in the kitchen that I didn't have time to chat to many people who did the walk, but I did hear that one or two people appeared to find some mud near the Hogs Back Hotel and that a number of people found difficulty in reading the Hampton Estate sign on the long course. One participant did not notice my correction for the clue at the Jolly Farmer - the number of credit cards - dashed into the bar and demanded the landlord's name with the threat that 200 more people were behind him. I also gather that the Gales Ales at the Anchor were much appreciated, although I was told the very sad news that this pub was being taken over by Courage in a week or so. No-one appeared to have found out the secret of the Tongham treacle mines: this will have to await another year!

I apologise for running out of directions but hope nobody was too inconvenienced. I would like to thank my two main helpers on this occasion - Nicholas and Alexander Chesterton - who coped manfully with the heavy work. Chris Steer also did a good two hours in the kitchen and helped me survive the very busy period, and John Westcott did some certificate signing at the end. I would also like to thank Charles Smith for his help with the hall and particularly for the innovation of the bar facilities for those finishing at the appropriate time, and thanks are also due to Barratts and Transaction Security Limited for permission to use their car parking spaces.

I hope you all enjoyed the day. Next year's event will take place at the same location on January 2nd 1984.

Happy

New Year
