REPORT AND RESULTS

The 43rd edition of the Kanter was held in the Oxted area for the second time. There were 62 entries in all, up from 2016 despite a clash with another challenge walk and growing uncertainty over trains or rather lack of them.

As last year the area has largely survived the latest round of pub closures, apart from one at Bletchingley crossroads. The most historic pub was the Red Lion, the third pub at Bletchingley, with parts dating from 1309. After that the next oldest pub was The Whyte Harte also at Bletchingley going back to 1388 and The Bell at Godstone dating from 1393. The newest pub visited was the purpose-built in 1997 Wetherspoon's Oxted Inn, and the next newest was the attractively sited Inn On The Pond in Nutfield Marsh dating from 1989, although the building itself goes back to 1650.

The weather on the day was fine and sunny, the best on this bank holiday for a while, with conditions underfoot good, apart from an unexpected stretch of lane near the M23 which was awash with water.

The diversion around the construction works was less of a problem than expected, a visit during the Xmas holidays had established the detour had got no worse.

The beer mat was introduced for the first time this year, it is hoped that these will become collectibles in future years.

Most walkers and runners managed the route in good time, the inaugural use of the Pacer software being put to effect, with much time saving.

If you see any errors in the results, can you please let me know and I'll get the web page updated.
